DR. GRENFEEL WOULD STOP POLAR DASHESDeath to Eskimos Only Result Says Missionary.

LIQUOR AND VICES KILL

Declares Outrages Are Committed on Natives.Insists There Is No Need for Expeditions to Far North—Points Out Condition of Eskimos, Who Are Exhibited at Fairs and Expositions in This Country—Known as a Missionary in Labrador Country.New York, April 24.—"There won't be an Eskimo living in a few years, unless arctic expeditions cease.""It is not the white man's burden; it is the Eskimo's burden. I can prove that exploring parties commit awful sins against the northern natives.""The Eskimo as a race is doomed. The white man is killing him with liquor and vices. The Eskimos who went to Buffalo and Chicago, to the fairs of the white man, returned to Hebron with disease.""Look at the picture given in stereopticon views at explorers' lectures and you will recognize Eskimos, so called, that are almost white. That is one of the white man's sins.""There is no necessity for polar explorations. I am satisfied that there is nothing at the pole except an open sea, which freezes over. There is no land there."One might just as well go on in the broad Atlantic from Coney Island on a cake of ice to prove something as to drift across the north pole."

Eskimo Extinction in Sight.

In such plain language Dr. Wilfred T.

Grenfell, known the world over for his missionary work among the Labrador natives, gave his views this afternoon on affairs of the arctic region.

Dr. Grenfell started for England in the White Star Line steamer Oceanic to spend a few weeks with his mother in Chester, England, preparatory to returning by way of St. John's, Newfoundland, to his Labrador field. Dr. Grenfell is a surgeon, master mariner, magistrate, and agent for Lloyd's, and he ascribes his success as a missionary to his belief that the only way to reach the soul is through the body.

The doctor's opinion as to the Eskimo and his relations with the white explorer was brought out by a question as to the future of the native. To this he replied:

"The Eskimo in the arctic has improved morally and physically, wherever the missionary has been able to keep him away from the white man. But where the trader has come in the wake of the explorer the extermination of the native has been and will continue to the end."

Easy to Deceive Eskimo.

"The Eskimo is not wise in tradition."

The Eskimo woman is unwise in other ways. The white trader, with a few tin whistles, will take the furs from the Eskimo every time. Every time that an exploring party has gone to a new part of Eskimo land, the immorality of the women there has always marked their traverse."

"Where one hundred years ago many Eskimos were found in certain parts of Labrador and Greenland, there are none to be found now. I never saw a native leave for polar research that I do not sum it up as another effort to exterminate a people."

A missionary is the only one who can safeguard the Eskimo. The explorer who does it. The Eskimos are dying like flies as a result of the vices which the white man taught them."

Danes Recognize Evil.

"The Danish government has recognized the danger of the obliteration of the native, and will not allow a trader to go ashore in Greenland. Any commerce intercourse must be done with the representative of the Danish government."

"Do you refer to any particular explorer in your statement of conditions?"

"I do not. I have seen the obliteration of my race," said Dr. Grenfell after a pause. "The Eskimo is going many times faster than your American Indian, and where the white man's sins are not killing him, he is dying because of the influence of the white man. It is found at the north pole."

"Nothing but ice or an open sea. The arctic zone, to my mind, is a great plain of ice, and no living man is sure in what direction the ice will flow. The explorer may find the pole, so called, but it will be by chance and by drifting."

PENROSE IN WASHINGTON.

First Visit Since "Conspiracy" Story.

May Not See President.

Senator Boies Penrose, of Pennsylvania, who, it is alleged, is or was a party to the "five million dollar conspiracy" to defeat President Roosevelt and his policies, came to Washington last night.

It was his first visit here since the conspiracy story was divulged. Mr. Penrose, according to advance information, would give out a statement declaring for a third term for President Roosevelt, thus showing that he (Penrose) was not engaged in any conspiracy against the President. The Pennsylvania Senator took time enough to deny informally, but emphatically, that he intended to make any statement of any sort whatever.

He was here, he said, to meet the postal commission, of which he is a member.

When Mr. Penrose's name was attached to the conspiracy he denied in Philadelphia that he knew anything about the conspiracy. According to the gossip in Washington the conspiracy was divulged by Mr. Penrose at a dinner given by Senator Jonathan Bourne, of Oregon, at which William Loeb, Jr., secretary to the President, was a guest.

Mr. Penrose has not seen President Roosevelt since. As the President is going away from Washington this afternoon and will not be back until Sunday probably, it is not likely that Mr. Penrose will have the opportunity of calling at the White House.

CLAIMS BRITISH ALLIANCE.

Madrid Paper Hears of Entente Between Countries.Madrid, April 24.—The Correspondencia de Espana claims to have diplomatic authority for stating that the effect of the meeting of King Alfonso and King Edward, at Carriaga, was the perfection of a far-reaching understanding for the purposes of war and peace. It would have been considered in the last century, according to the paper, an alliance, but in modern diplomatic language it is an entente cordiale.Everything concerning Morocco was ratified, everything in reference to the general European situation was discussed, and the basis was formulated for an agreement which is now in the hands of diplomats. The outcome, according to the Correspondencia, is the result of the competition between Germany and Great Britain for an understanding with Spain, in which Great Britain has scored all along.The negotiations began in 1905, and the development of the defense work at Cadix, Ceuta, and Melilla marked stages in their progress. The Correspondencia represents Great Britain as saying in effect that if Spain would allow her naval ports to be used by her fleet she would help Spain in the conversion of her existing debt. British squadrons would guarantee the security of the Spanish coast, and the Spanish forces would, of necessity, be Spanish, but British forces would be at the disposition of Spain should the latter need them.

"ROOSEVELT GIRL" WEDS.

Atlanta Belle Becomes Bride of New York Lawyer.Atlanta, Ga., April 24.—The prettiest girl in the South, according to President Roosevelt, to-night became the bride of a New Yorker, when Miss Adelaide Allen and Leonard Day, of New York, were married. The wedding ceremony took place at the First Methodist Church, in Atlanta, Rev. B. P. Allen, of Eatonton, Ga., a relative of the bride, officiating.The attendants included Miss Kathleen Klutz, of Salisbury, N. C., maid of honor; Miss Emma Quinn, of Cedarwood, Va., bridesmaid; Paul Green, of New York, best man; Dean Hill, of New York; William Elliott Wood, of Aiken, S. C.; George Allen, and Walter Dupre, ushers.

President Roosevelt met Miss Allen at the "Tech" reception, given in his honor, while in Atlanta at the State fair. He immediately declared that she was the prettiest girl he had seen in the South.

Mr. and Mrs. Day left for New York, where Mr. Day is a successful lawyer.

DIES IN PRESENCE OF GUESTS

Frank Walker Kills Himself by Taking Strychnine.

Ill Health Said to Have Driven the Young Man to Seek Relief in Death.

Charlottesville, Va., April 24.—Frank Walker, son of the late Frank Walker, a well-known Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad official, and grandson of Judge Roger A. Pryor, of New York, committed suicide here by taking strychnine. The poison was procured at a local drug store, the young man saying that he wanted to kill a dog.

The drug was taken at the residence of the late Judge Robertson, on Park street.

After swallowing the poison the young man walked back into the parlor and announced to the assembled guests what he had done. His statement was not regarded seriously until he was taken with convulsions. He died shortly thereafter in great agony.

The young man left a note to his mother, who is ill in bed from the shock.

His health was probably greatly responsible for the act. Walker recently underwent three severe operations. The body was taken to Richmond last week under the care of physicians. He suffered from an aggravated stomach trouble, for which he could find no relief except through the use of opiates.

POLICE LIGHT LAMPS.

City in Darkness.

New York, April 24.—Four hundred

Many districts were in darkness to-night until the police were set to work lighting the gas.

The strikers got busy and extinguished some of the lights. The strike is brought about by the discharge of union men.

anchored in the Potomac awaiting the pleasure of the officials and private party that are to stream down the river to Norfolk to-day, and by evening this city will be as "un-embarrassed" as Topeka, Kans.At least half a dozen vessels will carry official parties, and as many more in pleasure craft will up hook and steam away bearing gay parties of invited guests to the scene of the great exposition. The first official yacht to get under way will be the Mayflower, with the President and his party aboard, sailing at about 6 o'clock. To other craft will be allowed to pass the Mayflower on the way to the exposition or to draw near her.Following the Mayflower will be the ashore at 9:30, and will be met by car-riages, which will drive them through the exposition grounds. After the drive the party will be conveyed to the Auditorium, and will be invited to proceed immediately to their places on the reviewing stand, just in the rear of the Auditorium.The opening exercises, including an ad-grand review of the troops by the President, which will be by card invitation.

After the reception the guests will return to the steamer, which will probably leave for Old Point at 7 o'clock, and tie up near Fort Monroe and the Chamberlin Hotel. The guests will then be at liberty to spend the evening ashore, as the boat will remain at the pier all night.It is possible that the exposition authorities may give a ball at night, to which the members of the diplomatic party will be invited, and, in that case, the trip to Old Point may be eliminated. The next morning, bright and early, the regular was given the case of "Bill" Britton, the Hargis feudist, charged with complicity alleged head of the Hargis faction, stood in the courthouse third-floor corridor, looking anxiously toward the door.He watched for some time, and called the attention of friends to some move-ments on the inside. Sam Jett, who has been backing the prosecution of the Hargis, was also present. He stood with a group of anti-Hargis people on the
